What are cookies?

Cookies are small text files used to store small pieces of information. They are stored on your device when the website is loaded in your browser. These cookies help us make the website function properly, make it more secure, provide a better user experience, and understand how the website performs and where it needs improvement.

How do we use cookies?

Like most online services, our website uses its own and third-party cookies for several purposes. First-party cookies are mostly necessary for the website to function the right way, and they do not collect any of your personally identifiable data.
The third-party cookies used on our website are mainly used to understand how the website performs, how you interact with our website, to keep our services secure, to provide advertisements that are relevant to you, and overall to provide you with a better and improved user experience and help speed up your future interactions with our website.

What types of cookies do we use?

Essential: Some cookies are essential for you to experience the full functionality of our site. They allow us to maintain user sessions and prevent any security threats. They do not collect or store any personal information. For example, these cookies allow you to log in to your account, add products to your basket, and check out securely.

Statistics: These cookies store information such as the number of visitors to the website, the number of unique visitors, which pages of the website have been visited, the source of the visit, etc. These data help us understand and analyse how well the website performs and where it needs improvement.

Marketing: Our website displays advertisements. These cookies are used to personalise the ads that we show you so that they are meaningful to you. These cookies also help us track the efficiency of these advertising campaigns. The information stored in these cookies may also be used by third-party advertising providers to show you ads on other websites in your browser.

Functional: These are the cookies that help certain non-essential functionalities on our website. These functionalities include embedding content such as videos or sharing website content on social media platforms.

Preferences: These cookies help us store your settings and browsing preferences such as language preferences, so that you have a better and more efficient experience on future visits to the website.

You can manage the cookies used on the site via the "Manage Cookies" button.

How can I control the cookie preferences?

If you decide to change your preferences later through your browsing session, you can click on the "Privacy & Cookie Policy" tab on your screen. This will display the consent notice again, enabling you to change your preferences or withdraw your consent entirely.

In addition, different browsers provide different methods to block and delete cookies used by websites. You can change the settings of your browser to block/delete cookies. To find out more about how to manage and delete cookies, visit: wikipedia.org, www.allaboutcookies.org
